

DAVID HUDSON - EDUTAINER

David Hudson's career in the entertainment industry has spanned more than 25 years. Acclaimed as a musician and dancer, his CDs have sold many thousands of copies throughout the world. David also provided the music for the American 'Survivor' series set here in Australia.

Having toured the world performing in stadium concerts with artists such as the internationally acclaimed 'Yanni' and success in Hollywood films alongside actors such as Marlon Brando and Val Kilmer, David has a depth of experience from which to draw. His insights and thoughts are enlightening and inspiring. Through a series of workshops and experiences, tertiary educated David has developed exciting and innovative programs to help participants grow in confidence, establish goals and realize potential. Through his workshops he hopes to help others develop the skills and attitudes that have contributed to his own success.

ANCIENT VOICE OF THE FUTURE

David Hudson - Edutainer

David Hudson has developed team building and personal growth programs to help facilitate people in establishing goals and reaching the potential that lies within.

Working with the corporate sector, community groups, schools and other relevant organisations, David Hudson - Edutainer offers an experience that will inspire, motivate and entertain.

As an Indigenous Australian, I have been fortunate in having opportunities to perform as an entertainer with dance, drama, music and speaking in many settings around the world.

My focus is now in sharing and offering insights and my experience so that it may encourage others to also achieve.

I consider myself an "EDUTAINER".

In my workshops I try to include representations of my career in music and dance to help motivate and inspire through entertainment.

Cultural Appreciation

- ❖ Who we are as Australians.
- ❖ Cultural reconciliation - a young country with an ancient culture.
- ❖ Increase trust and openness in a group to explore a deeper understanding of this personal journey.

Workshop Goals

My own life history, as well as formal study, have given me insights and experiences which I find can assist participants by:

- ❖ providing inspiration - explores my incentive to achieve goals and what motivated me to better myself,
- ❖ exploring options and ideas for achieving success; inviting participants to construct their pathways to success in their chosen fields,
- ❖ raising self confidence, establishing a sense of self worth,
- ❖ goal setting, personal development and self-understanding,
- ❖ promoting cooperation and team building,
- ❖ exploring coping strategies, learning how to meet challenges and developing reachable goals,
- ❖ dealing with cultural obstacles - overcoming personal adversities,
- ❖ encouraging participants to explore exposure to different environments and lifestyles.
